Expansion to Hamilton

Quicksilver is now available in Hamilton. We have set up a dial up presence that allows a local call to our servers. As well as signing up new users in the area, this will also allow all our Auckland users to access the internet while they are in Hamilton. Why not tell your friends down there about us? This is the start of a few expansions on the horizon for Quicksilver. We are currently negotiating in Christchurch and could expand to cover that area within a month. The goal of course is to eventually become a nationwide Internet Service Provider. Again this is something that will benefit our current users by strengthening the company and offered versatility for those who travel around New Zealand.
